... interest in their school, concentration on their work, a smile on the countenance of a newly-honored student, and those participating in sports and activities. A view is like a mirror that reflects the ideas and feelings of the students of Alma High School. Moods of our students are revealed in the facial expressions as they are throughout the world. As a student's life changes, so does his views of life. Every change in life reveals a different type of self-expression as new challenges meet the students of AHS.

A View of the Desire to Succeed in School and Future Life.

The Struggle for Success is Visible in Faces

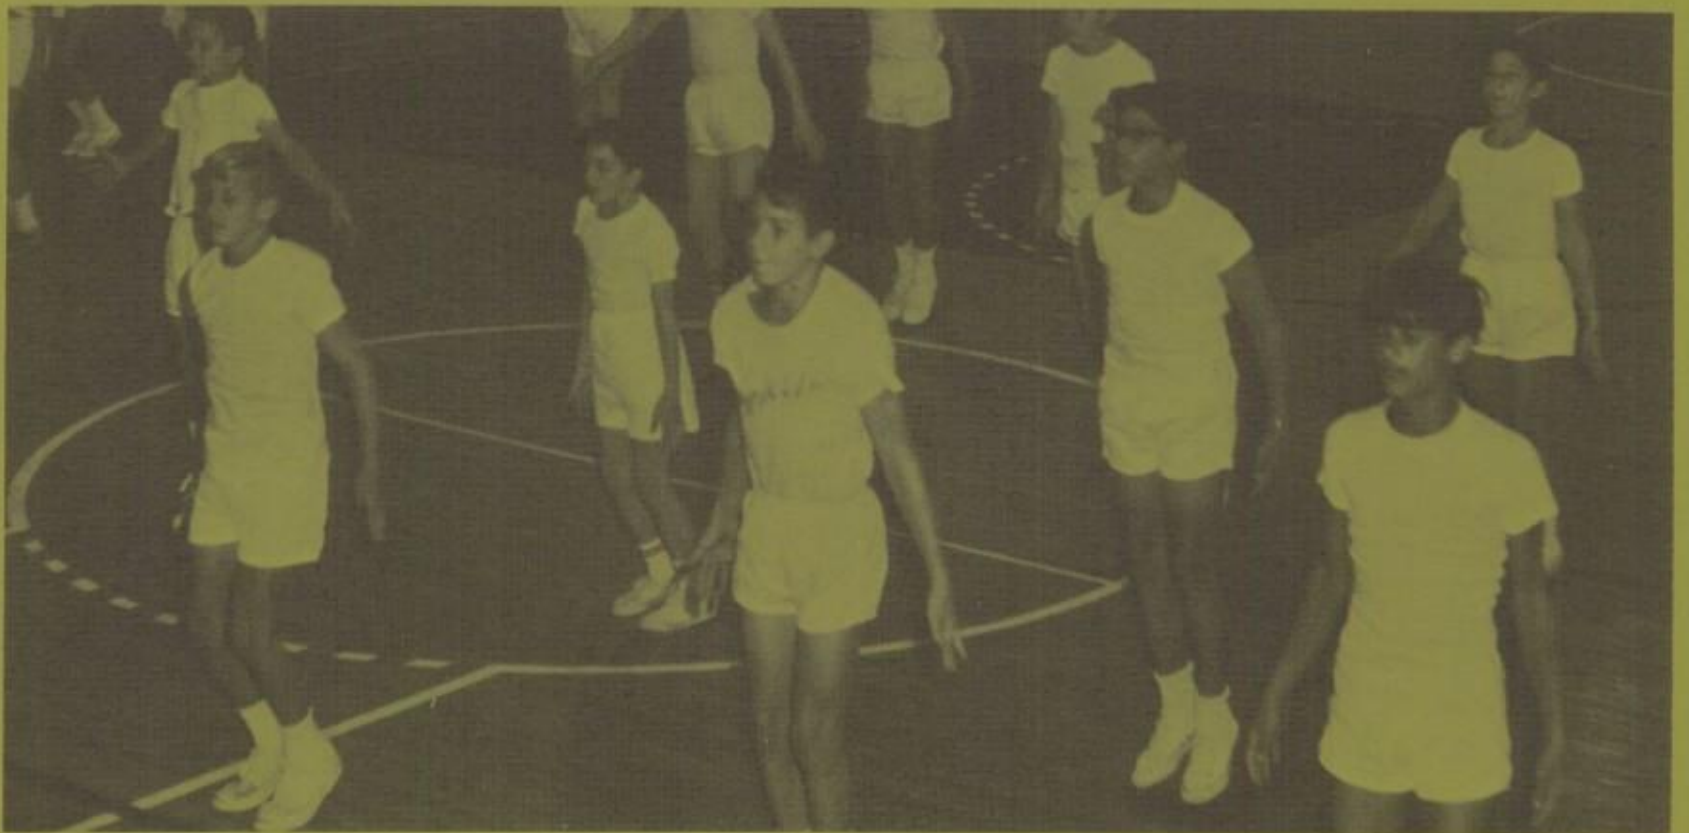

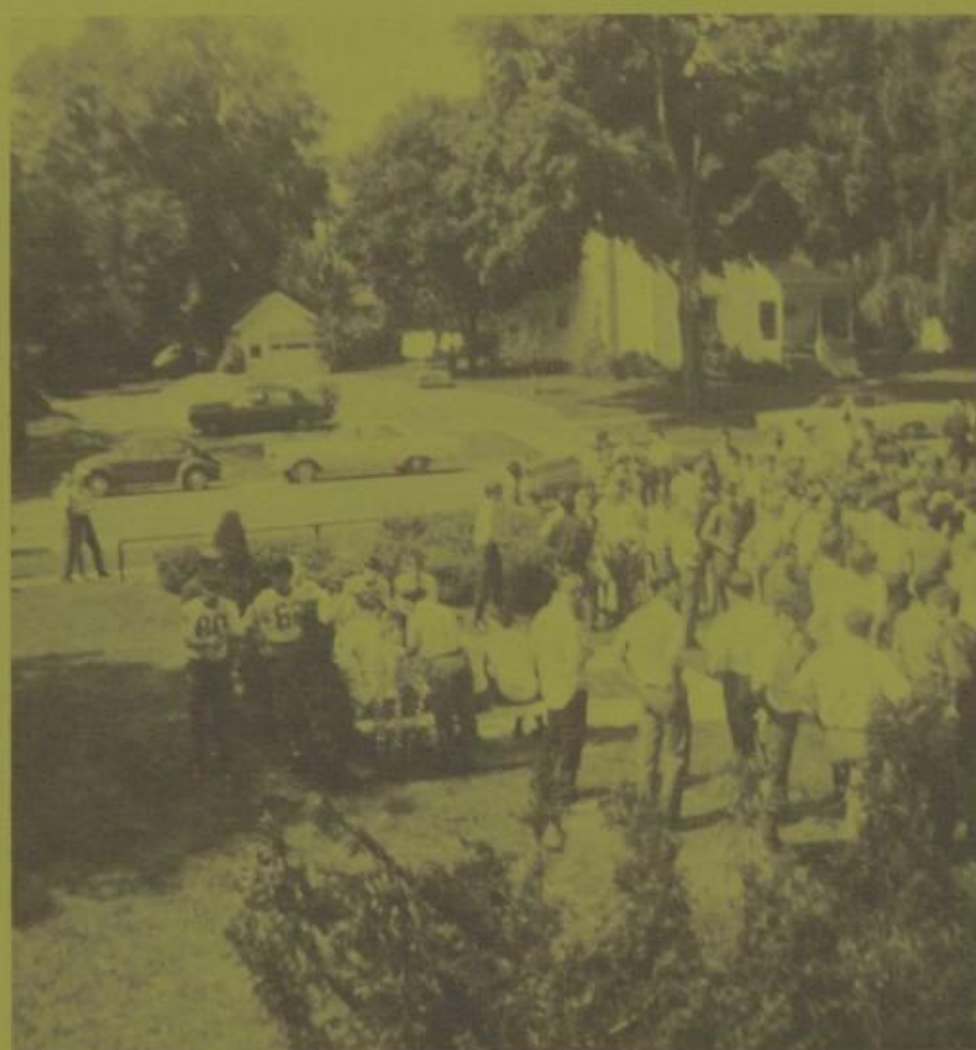

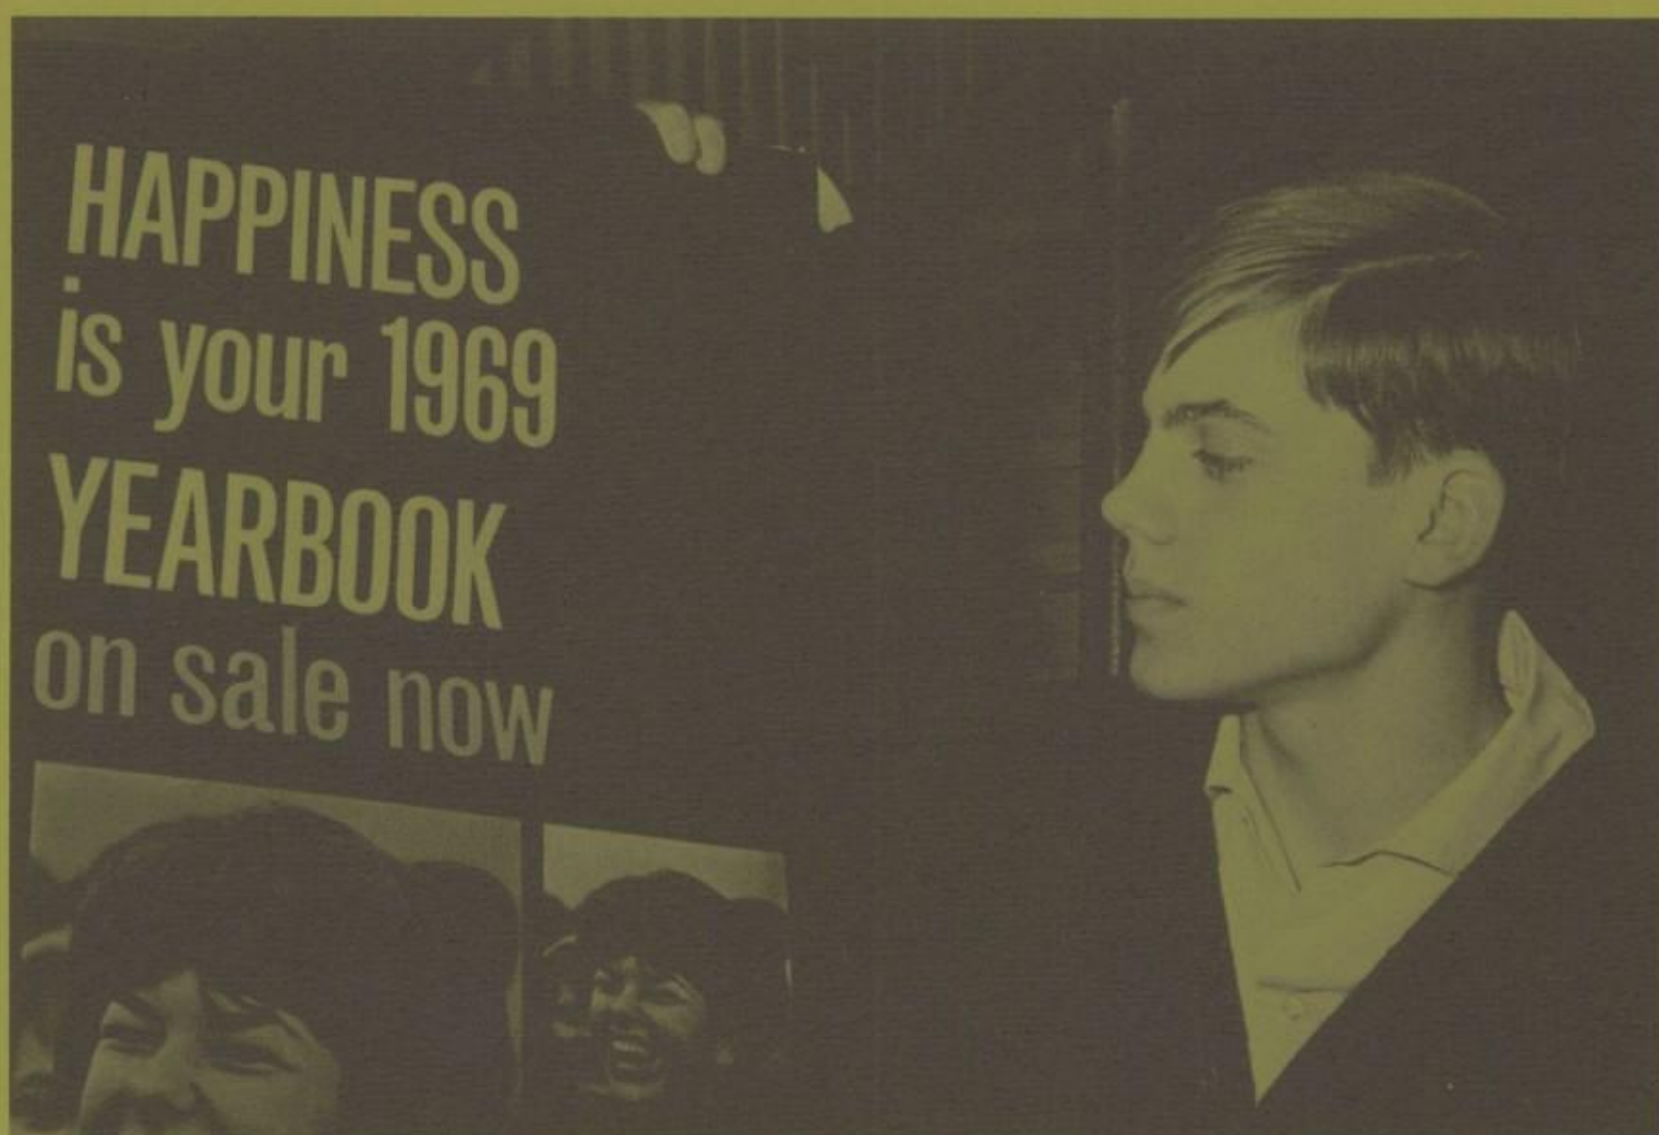

The struggle for success is a long and tedious journey. Success is a product of long hours of work; and the ultimate goal is the application of techniques, talent, and labor.

ACTIVITIES

Back to School Dance

The first activity of every school year is the "Back to School" dance. Excitement rules the evening because this is the time when the 1968 yearbook is distributed to the student body.

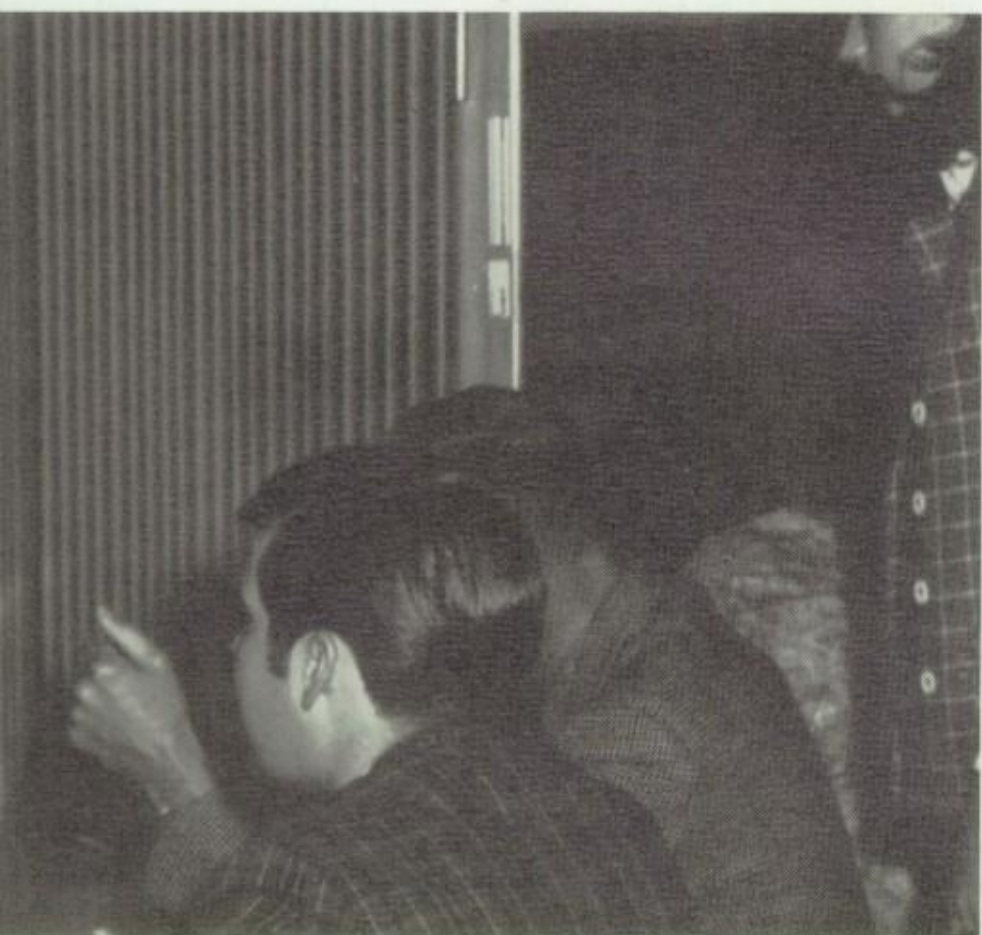

Members of the 1969 annual staff and teachers were on hand to greet the alumni and students.

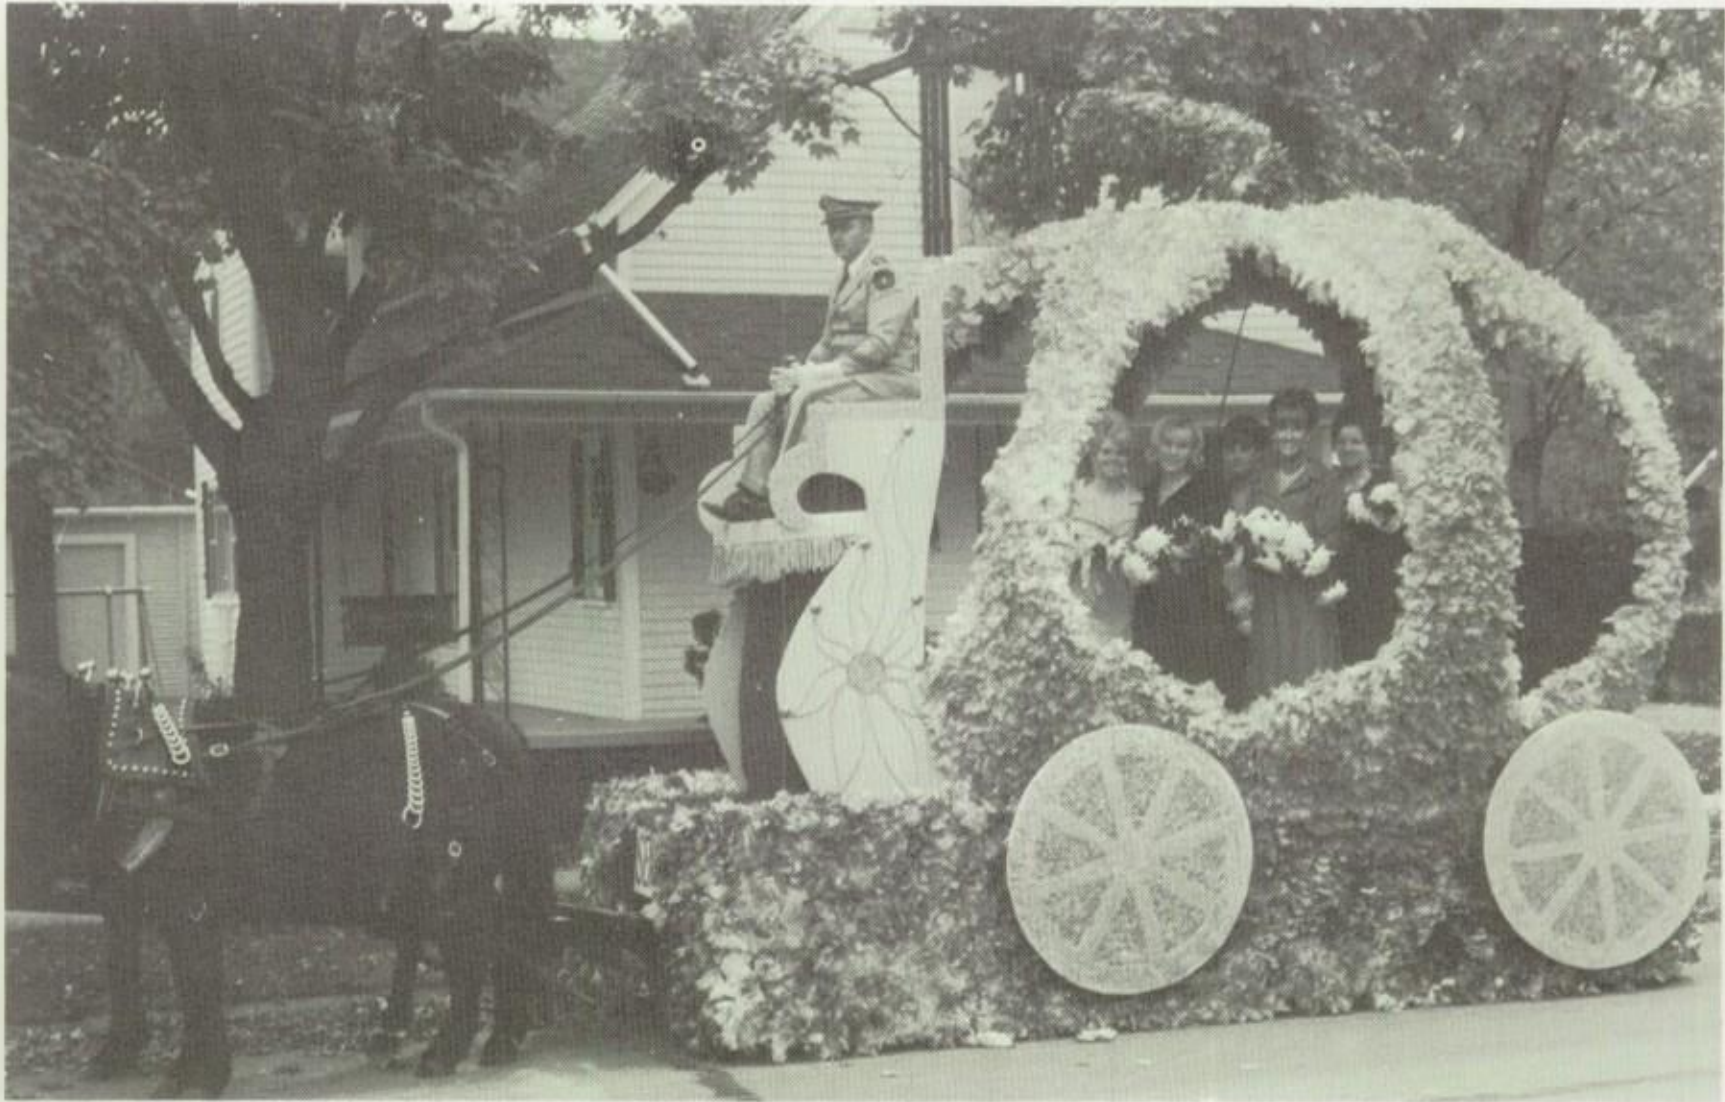

Chaperones for the dance included old and new members of the faculty. Throughout the evening, everyone had a chance to exchange greetings.

Autumn Enchantment

Homecoming 1968

"I'd rather have a snooty daughter than a stupid son."

The People Next Door

On December 5 and 7, 1968, the AHS Dramatics Club presented their play, "The People Next Door." This comedy of family life depicts the Foster and Moore families feuding, over what, no one knows. Harry Moore (Steve Munsell) is a typical down-to-earth American. Next door lives Charley Foster (Eric Petro), whose explosive temper is a match for Harry's. Dottie Moore (Carol Wiltse) and Pete Foster (Cary Wellington) have conceived a Romeo-Juliet interest in each other, but are forced by their parents' feud to live a sub-surface romance. They do their best to bring peace to the two clans, but to no avail. When Charley accepts the town mayor nominations, Harry immediately enters the list on the opposing ticket. They conduct a furious campaign, and disaster strikes, forcing the two families to spend a whole day and night in each other's company. But there is a fast and furious climax in which the young people have their happy ending.

"I'm not letting those Fosters move in with us."

Cast of Characters

SEATED: Steve Munsell, Ann Johnston, Carol Wiltse, Laura Johnston, Pat Harless; STANDING: Cary Wellington, Steve Beery, Eric Petro, Sam Cornelius.

Yearbook Staff Strives

Steve Beery, Ass't. Editor, and Connie Howe, Editor, look on as Mrs. Shock, the yearbook advisor, shows plans for the new book. Later Steve was busy using the scaleograph on one of the mats.

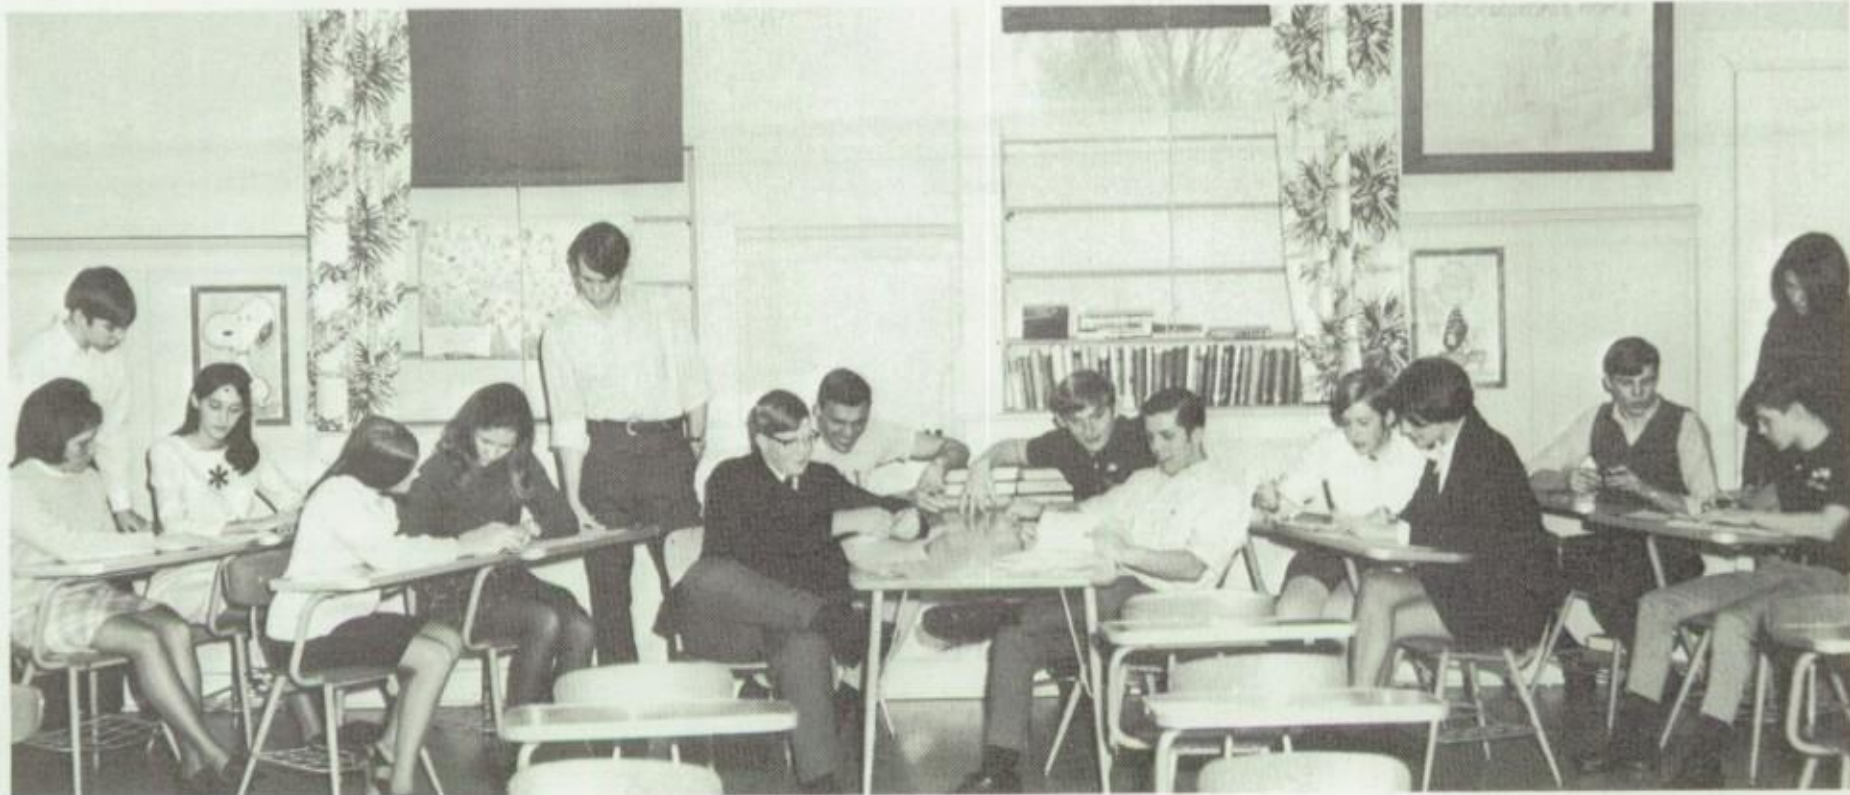

The people who had the highest subscriptions for the yearbooks were Ray Gulick in first place, Connie Howe in second place, and Randy Mallory in third.

This year the person who sold the most advertising was Joanne Rearick. Marbeth Anderson and Randy Mallory took second and third places, respectively.

To top everything off, Ray Gulick sold 102 yearbooks, the highest ever sold by one person. Joanne Rearick sold the highest advertising with 180 dollars.

to Meet Deadlines

On Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, you would find the Annual Staff busy at work with the yearbook. The staff decided to have a contest between the boys and girls of the class, to see who could sell the most subscriptions. As a result of the contest, the girls were defeated and had to serve lunch to the boys.

Foreign Languages Important

La señora Kaufmann esta ensenando la clase de español tres. Mrs. Kaufmann is teaching the Spanish III Class.

Spanish Club Officers

The Spanish Club meets the first and third Wednesdays of each month. The officers are Deana House, Treas.; Fay Larson, Pres.; Kathy McNinch, Vice-Pres.; Jay Johns, Sec. Ralph Hassler, a foreign exchange student from Chile, was one of the outstanding speakers for the Club.

The III year Spanish Class had a brain storm this year. They sponsored and performed puppet shows for the five elementary schools in Alma. The four shows consisted of, "Goldilocks and the Three Bears," "Winnie the Pooh," "The Glove Romance," and "Hansel and Gretel." The class made the puppets and built the stage used to present the shows.

to Communicate with Others

Maddme Davies et sa classe de francais III's occupent avec leurs etudes. Mrs. Davies and her French III class busy with their studies.

Sue Tschaekofske, Pres.; Mrs. Stearns, Adv.; Carol Carnell, Treas.; Pat Wierman, Sec.

Club Officers

A new edition to the school's extra-curricular activities this year was Mrs. Stearns' French Club. Meetings were planned for every other Thursday and projects included a French movie shown at Alma College for the benefit of those interested in the language. Membership was open to anyone with at least one year of French.

Anne Hall, Linda Byers and Mary Gaye Leppein study their French, taking advantage of a new facility added this year to AHS. The language tapes, found in the library lab do much to help students learn the language that they are studying.

Students of Library Arts

Miss Helman, the librarian, at work in her office.

The Library Club is comprised of Alma High School students who work in the library for one hour per day. These students are responsible to the teacher-librarian in charge of the library. Student librarians are responsible for returning library materials to the shelves, constructing bulletin boards and displays, filing cards, checking in periodicals, circulating books and magazines, assisting other students, and helping the teacher-librarian in "behind-the-scenes" duties of library administration.

The Library Club meets approximately once a month, usually for a party or luncheon during the noon hour. The annual Christmas party includes a taffy pull at the home of Miss Helman. The noon luncheon gives the students the opportunity to get better acquainted and is a time for discussing matters pertaining to library operation. Profits from bake sales are used by the club for these festivities.

270 Seniors Participate in Forum

Kurt Wassenaar, Alma keynoter.

Senior Government Day, held at Alma College March 25, offered an opportunity for all Seniors to join the Seniors from Ashley and Breckenridge for a dialogue with leaders from government, business, and other areas of public concern, including judges, school officials, police, and representatives from State and local legislative branches.

All 270 Seniors met in a General Session in the morning with approximately thirty resource people. In the afternoon this group divided itself into ten discussion groups, namely: Civil Rights, Juvenile Problems, Courts, Law Enforcement, Education, Elections, Legislation, Welfare, Employment Relations, and Taxation. Alma was responsible for leading and recording five of these groups. Heading these divisions were: Employment Relations; Sue Smith, leader, Connie Howe, recorder, Law Enforcement, Tom Plaxton, leader, Pat Harless, recorder; Courts, Tony Seaman, leader, Sue Beltinck, recorder; Legislation, Janna Hendricks, leader, Eric Petro, recorder.

Mr. McMacken and the second semester editors of the Panther Profile, Steve Beery and John Richards.

Buckler; Beery, and Richards Head Panther Profile

The purpose of journalism, a one semester course, is to introduce students to journalistic work and to publish the school paper. Subjects covered are: the art of interviewing, writing stories and leads properly, and units on the history of journalism and advertising in the mass media.

During the first semester the paper staff had to meet a weekly deadline with stories for the Print of the Panther which appeared weekly in the Alma Daily Record-Leader. The Print's editor was Steve Buckler. Throughout the second semester the class concentrated on the school paper The Panther Profile.

The 1968-1969 Alma High School Annual Staff would like to extend their appreciation to all the local businessmen who advertised and were patrons in our yearbook.

The funds received from this advertising financed over one-third of our yearbook, making it possible to produce a larger and, we feel, a better book.

The faith of the businessmen in this project shows a profound interest in our school. The Staff hopes that they have repaid the patronage in this section devoted to advertising.

Acknowledgements

Using Alma High as an example enables one to realize that faces reflect how the students and faculty feel in their attitudes toward the school.

So, we the members of the annual staff, have attempted to portray our ideas of Alma High School and what the school means to us.

We wish to thank the following, without whose assistance this publication would not have been possible: Gale's Photography Shop of Mt. Pleasant, Stovall's of Alma, Mr. Bill Walker of the faculty for photography; the advertisers and patrons for their faith in our project; for Lynne Dickinson and Vickey Ramsey for the art work; the American Yearbook Company and Mr. Ray Figg for the limitless help they provided; and to all others, teachers and students, for their patience and willingness to assist when called upon.

To the 1969 Panther Tales Staff, the editor gives a special thanks. I wish to express my appreciation for a job well done. Through her patience and faith in a sometimes lively staff, the staff and I want to thank Mrs. Shock for the encouragement and assistance she gave as advisor to the staff.

I hope this PANTHER TALES is one that all will enjoy; so that when the years of youth have passed, it will still help you to retain sharp and clear reflections of your high school days.

Connie Howe, Editor
and the 1969 PANTHER TALES
Staff.
